

PRESIDENT WILSON SPEAKS AT BUFFALO

Protests Against Use of Foreign Relationships for Political Advantage

FIRST NEW YORK SPEECH

Discusses International and Foreign Problems Facing the United States

LEAVES FOR NEW YORK

BUFFALO, N. Y., Nov. 1.—President Wilson, in his first speech in New York state since the campaign opened, today questioned the patriotism of men "who in the midst of the most critical relationships, the details of which they do not know, make play with the loss of the lives of American citizens that they may create a domestic political advantage."

He declared that political parties should be used, but that partisan use should not be made of them. "Out of a heterogeneous nation we have got to make a unit," said the president, "in which no slightest line of division is visible beyond our borders. Variety of opinion among ourselves there may be, discussion, free counsel as to what we ought to do, but as far as every other nation is concerned, we must be absolutely a unit."

"And I want to register my solemn protest here against the use of our foreign relationships for political advantage. I can not, I will not regard any man as a patriot who does that—men who in the midst of the most critical relationships, the details of which they do not know, make play with the loss of lives of American citizens even in order that they may create a domestic political advantage."

The remainder of the president's afternoon speech, delivered at a luncheon given in his honor by a non-partisan club, was devoted to a discussion of international and foreign problems facing the United States. He declared he was glad the campaign was nearly over, because "within a week we can begin to talk sense again."

In addition to the afternoon address the president delivered an address under non-partisan auspices and made two automobile tours of Buffalo after shaking hands with station crowds at stations in New York, on his way here. He was accompanied by Mrs. Wilson, Miss Margaret Wilson, Miss Helen Woodrow Wilson, Secretary Tumulty and Dr. Cary T. Grayson, the White House physician. He left tonight for New York, where he speaks tomorrow at a luncheon given by business men, at a meeting tomorrow night at Madison Square Garden and later at a meeting at Cooper Union.

In his afternoon speech here President Wilson said in part:

"It is exceedingly important that this country should discuss its affairs with as little partisanship of feeling as possible, because its affairs were never so critically set about, if I may so express it, as they are at this moment. There was never a time when the determination of our domestic questions bore a more direct relation to the determination of our relations to other countries. There never was a time when the discussion of our own affairs needed to be more honestly, more thoroughly, more calmly conducted than now. There is excitement enough in the world. There is unrestrained impulse enough, there is covetousness of power enough. America has so to say, given promise to the world that she will look at things without the passion that has determined the affairs of other nations. I want you to let me, if you will, give you in a few sentences my idea of the kind of questions we've got to settle in the country."

"I want you to notice that the field of political action is widening about us in a way that fairly daunts the judgment of thoughtful men. We used to think that we saw the field of legislation tolerably well defined and our text writers were able to define that field with some degree of confidence. But you perceive, I take it for granted, that that field has not only greatly widened. There are a great many social questions now with which legislation has to deal, very profound and radical questions. There are questions of justice, there are questions even of moral health. 'One of the things that America is beginning to perceive is that a court of law, for example, is not necessarily a court of justice. I say this will all formal respect for a profession which I long ago left, the profession of the law. What I mean is this: Law too seldom has any heart in it, to seldom has any bowels of compassion, too seldom has any quick sympathies of perception. 'Let me make an illusion which may seem like a political illusion, but it is not so intended. The reason that the Progressive party was formed four years ago was that the large body of men who formed that party made up their minds that they were separating themselves from had not thought out the questions of social justice. Is that

TELEGRAPHIC BRIEFS

FAIRMOUNT, W. Va.—Ten thousand bituminous coal miners in this region were notified that their wages had been advanced ten per cent.

CHICAGO.—An attempted Halloween prank cost the life of Keller Monroe, aged 17, when he climbed an electric light pole near his home in Rogers Park and was electrocuted.

ST. LOUIS.—The Barown Shoe company notified its 6,000 employees that effective next Monday, their work day would be nine hours with the present ten hour day pay.

IOWA CITY, Ia.—G. J. Holz, former alderman and until recently president of the Iowa City commission died suddenly here.

CHICAGO.—Another private bank that of D. M. Erskine and Company, remained closed, for the reason that D. M. Erskine, who founded it in 1877, died last Friday. The bank was closed for his funeral and since has not opened.

CHICAGO.—Speeding automobiles instantly killed one woman and seriously injured two others here. The victim was Mrs. Catherine Mosak, aged 23. Drivers of the machines escaped.

DETROIT, Mich.—It was announced in recorder's court that the trial of James Walton, charged with robbing the Burroughs Adding Machine Company's pay car of $32,000 will start on Nov. 9.

HINTON, W. Va.—James Gwinn, wealthy lumberman, Mrs. J. J. Holland and Miss Ada Gunther were instantly killed when an automobile in which they were riding was struck by a Chesapeake and Ohio railroad train near here.

DENIES PROGRESSIVES WILL SUPPORT WILSON

Ikkes Predicts Hughes Will Be Overwhelmingly Elected Next Tuesday.

Chicago, Nov. 1.—Harold L. Ikkes, progressive national committeeman from Illinois and at present a member of the Western Republican committee issued a statement today denying that President Wilson will receive the support of a large number of Progressives.

"After a careful canvass of the Progressive situation in every state within the jurisdiction of the western headquarters I am satisfied that if Mr. Hughes will hold the Republican vote, and of that there can be no doubt, he will be overwhelmingly elected president next Tuesday," said Mr. Ikkes.

"Determined effort being made in these latter days of the campaign to line up the Progressive vote for Mr. Wilson demonstrates two facts; first, that Mr. Wilson is desperately in need of that vote and realizes that without it he cannot win. Second, that the Democratic management realizes that the overwhelming percentage of the Progressive vote is for Mr. Hughes. If Mr. Wilson did not need the Progressive vote so badly, as his managers now confess, Progressive speakers on special trains would not be hurrying thru middle western states."

JEERS INTERRUPT WOMEN SPEAKERS

CHICAGO, Nov. 1.—Women who arrived here today on the women's Hughes transcontinental train met opposition at an afternoon meeting in a downtown theater. Today, Jeers which interrupted the speaker began when eggs were tossed at them as they left the theater by an alley exit and passed into waiting automobiles. None of the eggs struck the women or the automobiles in which they rode. The women maintained their good nature and finished their speeches in spite of the interruptions.

MAY REQUIRE SIX YEAR COURSE FOR DOCTORS

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Nov. 1.—The educational requirement for permission to practice medicine in Illinois in the future will be a six year medical course instead of the present 5 year course, if a proposition embodying this change is acted on favorably by the state board of health. Dr. C. St. Clair Drake, secretary of the board, announced today that the change would be proposed at the next meeting of the board and predicted it would be adopted.

The additional school year will be devoted to practical work in an accredited hospital, Dr. Drake said.

THREE KILLED IN BLAST.

Marshfield, Ore., Nov. 1.—Three dead and two injured was the toll today of a gas explosion which occurred last night 3,000 feet below the surface in the Beaver Hill coal mine near here. Only one body has been recovered as black damp is impeding rescue work.

DIES OF BURNS.

Chicago, Nov. 1.—Ralph Hedlich, mechanic for Wilbur D'Alene in the recent automobile race at Speedway Park, died today of burns sustained when D'Alene's car was wrecked.

AWAIT GERMAN VERSION OF MARINA SINKING

Incident Threatens To Fall Into a Technical Discussion

Bernstorff Requests Berlin To Forward Details by Wireless—Lansing States Political Campaign Will Not Delay Investigation.

Washington, Nov. 1.—So many conflicting elements have appeared so far in the destruction of the British Ship Marina by a German submarine with loss of American lives that the incident threatens to fall into a technical discussion rather than a clean-cut issue of whether Germany has violated her pledges to the United States. It became quite apparent today, both from the attitude of the state department and from the despatches from abroad, that much that is essential to a determination of a decision by the United States remains undisclosed. If indeed, the United States, Germany, or Great Britain are in possession of the full facts. It appeared certain, however, that no move will be made by the United States until the German version of the Marina affair as well as that of the destruction of the British ship Rowanmore by shell fire has been secured.

The only positive developments today were the action of Count Von Bernstorff, the German ambassador, in asking his government to forward full details by wireless and the issuance of a statement by Secretary Lansing that the investigation would be in no wise delayed because there is a political campaign in progress.

"I wish also to make another statement on the matter which has been brought to my attention," Secretary Lansing said in his statement. "The question has been raised as to whether the policy of the president or the department in regard to submarine warfare since the Sussex was sunk has been changed. I wish to say emphatically that there has been no change in any particular."

Secretary Lansing made it plain also that no decisive action would be taken until Germany had had opportunity to reply to the inquiry for her version of the attacks on the Marina and Rowanmore.

While they await full details, two outstanding facts attracted the attention of officials.

One was the announcement that the Marina was armed with a 4.7 inch gun mounted astern; the other was a news despatch from London, the language of which was regarded as significant. It said:

"It is regarded here as quite probable that the American state department will make still further inquiries with the object of definitely determining the status of the Marina. While it is said that she was torpedoed, it appears that the vessel may have engaged in admiralty work not long before."

This was generally construed as reflecting some indications of doubt in London over whether the ship was entitled to the immunities of a peaceful merchantman. The United States government, however, never has altered its policy of regarding merchant ships, temporarily in admiralty service as merchant ships still unless they have been actually taken over by a belligerent navy and manned with a naval crew.

The question of the Marina's armament is likely to become the point on which the case will revolve.

It brings the submarine question back to a point where Germany and the United States have held to directly opposite views. Germany has steadfastly contended that in view of the novel conditions surrounding submarine warfare and in view of the British admiralty's alleged instructions to merchant captains to destroy enemy submarines, any armed ship was liable to destruction on sight and without warning.

The position of the United States was clearly defined to all the belligerents in the formal memorandum of March 24th, 1915. Some of the significant sentences from the declaration follow:

"It is necessary for a belligerent warship to determine the status of an armed merchant vessel encountered on the high seas."

"The determination of wartime character must rest in no case upon presumption, but upon conclusive evidence because the responsibility cannot be avoided or lessened by a standard of evidence which a belligerent may announce as creating a presumption of a hostile character. * * * The belligerent should in the absence of conclusive evidence act on the presumption that an armed merchantman is of a peaceful character."

"A presumption based solely on the presence of armament * * * is not a sufficient reason for a belligerent to declare it to be a warship and proceed to attack it without regard to the rights of persons on board. Conclusive evidence of a

HUGHES DELIVERS FIVE ADDRESSES

G.O.P. Nominee Winds Up His Campaign In Middle West

OUTLINES HIS POLICIES

Devotes Much of His Speeches To Tariff, On Final Day in Middle West

DISCUSSES ADAMSON LAW

Terre Haute, Ind., Nov. 1.—Charles E. Hughes wound up his campaign in the middle west with a speech here tonight and left shortly afterward for points in New York, the last state in which he will appear before election.

Mr. Hughes made five speeches today in which he outlined policies he intends to follow if elected, assailed the administration for the enactment of the Underwood tariff and Adamson law and expressed the belief that he would win. He spoke tonight after reviewing a torchlight parade. Just before his departure the nominee issued the following statement:

"I am leaving Indiana after what is perhaps the most wonderful reception ever given a candidate for the presidency."

"This splendid tribute was not to me personally, but as the representative of the great United Republican party moving forward to victory and service for the nation. The men of Indiana have organized a people's victory and I want to thank the leaders of the re-united Republican party for their effective work."

Mr. Hughes on his final day in the middle west devoted much of his speeches to the tariff. He addressed two audiences at Linton and Brazil, composed largely of employees of the coal mining companies.

"We had soap houses and breadlines twenty months ago," he said, "and will have them again if we do not protect American industry and if we attempt to carry on the business of this country on the policy indicated in the Underwood bill."

In his speech here tonight Mr. Hughes discussed the Adamson bill at length.

"I am informed that the general chairman has advised the local chairman of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers of the Pennsylvania lines, east, that the Adamson bill is establishing a new basis for reckoning wages, will eliminate the payment of all arbitrators which are based upon time made within the first eight hours period of service."

"The uncertainty of the law is recognized in various particulars. It is said what it will be decided to mean no one can now tell as it is possible to construe it in several different ways. The chairman also adds, 'this law does not change the application of the hours of service law. The company still has the right to work you sixteen hours within any twenty four consecutive hours if they so desire.'"

"I note that the chief of one of the locals of the brotherhoods has ascertained the effect of the law on those who complete their run in less than eight hours. He says that if a man makes a hundred miles in five hours instead of getting his full day's pay he will get only five-eighths of a day's pay when paid on the eight hour basis. He also says that formerly the railroad men were entitled to pay for 25 miles whenever called out, whether they were used after reporting or not. But the Adamson bill enacts a flat basis of eight hours for the purpose of paying compensation while on the other hand it does not establish an eight hour work day."

"I think it would be found that the Adamson bill is a gold brick for labor. That is not any eight hour work day bill. There was not any eight hour work day proposition involved in it. There never was. Things that are right can walk in their own clothes; we can have things that are right if we go at them in the right way."

"I am for the merits of the case and I am proceeding according to the rule of reason. I will go to the last fact to find out what ought to be done and I will do it, according to what I believe ought to be done and I won't budge an inch for anybody in response to force." In discussing the tariff Mr. Hughes told the mine workers at Linton and Brazil that nothing was more important

FRAZEE AND WARD BUY BOSTON AMERICAN CLUB

Lannin Announces Sale at Dinner To New Owners

Both Parties Agree to Keep Silent as to Price—Frazee To Take Direct Charge of Team—Hope Carrigan Will Consent to Lead Team.

Boston, Nov. 1.—The World Champion Boston American baseball team was sold tonight to Harry H. Frazee of New York and Hugh Lannin of Philadelphia. Joseph J. Lannin of this city, former owner of the club, who announced the sale at a dinner given to the new owners and newspapermen, said the papers had been signed less than half an hour before. The price was not stated, both parties having agreed to keep silent on that point.

Mr. Frazee and Mr. Ward are both identified with theatrical interests. The new owners gave few details as to definite plans for the club but said:

"When we went into the big thing we did not buy a cheap team. We bought champions. We were interested in the club only because they were champions and we would not have considered them otherwise."

Mr. Frazee will take direct charge of the team's affairs, it was said. The Red Sox are at present without a manager, William Carrigan, who has guided the team for the last three years, having announced his retirement at the conclusion of the world's series last month. Mr. Frazee said he would hold the position of manager open for Carrigan and hoped he would consent to lead the team another year. The executive staff of the club will be retained.

Negotiations for the transfer have been pending a week it is said, but the papers were not signed until tonight. The sale includes the franchise, players' contracts and the real estate at Fenway Park.

Mr. Lannin has owned the team three years and during that time the Sox have won two world's series. He acquired a possession in 1914 when the club finished second in the American League race. Philadelphia winning the pennant. In 1915 the club finished first and defeated the Philadelphia National League in the world's series. This year the team again finished first after one of the closest pennant races in the history of the American League and defeated the Brooklyn club in the world's series contest by winning four out of five games.

After announcing the sale, Mr. Lannin said he intended to enter the hotel business in this city.

Mr. Frazee's acquisition of a part ownership in the Red Sox club probably makes him the youngest baseball magnate in the country. He was born in Peoria, Ill., June 29th, 1880. He managed a baseball team in that city when he was 21 years old, but neither he nor Mr. Ward has been connected with major league baseball before. Within the last few years Mr. Frazee has entered into negotiations for the purchase of New York, Chicago and Boston National League teams, but all the deals fell thru.

Mr. Ward announced that he would make his home in this city.

RETURNS INDICATE ZAYAS' ELECTION

Supporters of Cuban President, However, Hopeful Related Returns Will Overcome Rival's Lead.

Havana, Nov. 1.—Returns received up to midnight by the Central Electoral Board indicated the election of Alfredo Zayas as president of Cuba. The conservatives who supported President Menocal for re-election are hopeful, however, that related returns will be so favorable to their candidate that he may overcome the lead of his rival.

The results from provinces outside of Havana were coming in very slowly. It is in those provinces that the conservatives expect to get their heaviest lot of votes. The polls opened at 7 o'clock and heavy balloting began immediately. There was intense enthusiasm everywhere. Soldiers with rifles stood on guard in the streets adjacent to the polling places in the downtown section of the city and reserves were stationed at strategic points in readiness to quell any outbreak. In Havana, so far as reported, only one man was wounded in a political dispute.

At Melena del Sur Havana province, it is alleged, a party of liberals attacked a voting place. One conservative was killed and two liberals wounded.

INDICATE WALKOUT WAS UNIVERSALLY OBSERVED

McALESTER, Okla., Nov. 1.—While a number of coal mine operators and superintendents in the Oklahoma field reported dissatisfaction among the rank and file of the miners, headquarters here of the United Mine Workers of America indicated today that the call for a general walkout was universally observed in all the mines controlled by members of the Oklahoma Coal Operators association.

Approximately 7,000 miners are affected by the strike order which was the result of failure to reach an agreement on the biennial wage contract.

CHARGE CONSPIRACY TO EXPORT ARMS

Tucson, Ariz., Nov. 1.—Dr. G. R. Servin a naturalized American was arrested here today charged with conspiracy to export arms to revolutionists in Mexico. Warrants also were issued for a number of other persons. Arms and ammunition were seized by the authorities. Dr. Servin denied complicity in the plot.

War News Summarized

Hard fighting is taking place again on the Somme front in France between the entente allies and the Germans. Since Tuesday the British and French near Courcelette and on the Les Boeuufs-Gueudecourt front and to the south have been attacking violently, with the Germans tenaciously holding them back, except to the east of Les Boeuufs where the entente forces have gained some ground and to the east of Les Boeuufs in the St. Pierre Vaast wood and near Sully-Saillies, where the men of General Foch took additional German trenches. Between Lesars and Gueudecourt and in the vicinity of the Schwaben redoubt the Germans are bombarding British positions heavily.

On the Transylvania front the Roumanians are keeping up their drive of the Austro-Germans in the Jial valley, but according to Petrograd the Teutons have occupied two villages south of the Rotherthurn pass. In the Predel pass sector the Germans have penetrated Roumanian positions and captured ten cannon and seventeen machine guns and also have made further progress southeast of the Rotherthurn pass.

Again the Russians have assumed the offensive in Galicia along the Narayuvka river and in the Michouk region. Berlin records the repulse of five heavy attacks in the former district and Petrograd adds the Russians in the latter zone have been pressed back by superior Teutonic forces.

Bad weather is again hampering the operations on the Macedonian front, but nevertheless the British in the Struma region have taken Baraki-Azuma from the Bulgarians, while the Serbs have made a slight advance on the left bank of the Danube and also put down an attack by the Teutonic allies and made prisoner of both Bulgarians and Germans.

With the advent of fine weather in the Austro-Italian theater artillery engagements are being fought all along the line. The bombardments are especially violent east of Gorizia and on the Carso plateau.

REJECT PROPOSAL TO TRANSFER CONFERENCES

Mexican-American Commission's Meetings Will be Held at Atlantic City After Election.

Atlantic City, N. J., Nov. 1.—The Mexican-American joint commission today rejected the proposition to transfer the conferences from Atlantic City to Washington. After considerable debate it was decided to meet tomorrow for the last session prior to the national elections. Most of the commissioners and perhaps all of them, will leave here Friday and return Wednesday for a resumption of their conferences on Nov. 9th.

The decision to continue the conferences at Atlantic City was taken to indicate a conviction of at least part of the commissioners that an agreement that some form of the border control would be reached soon. The transfer of the great mass of documents that has accumulated and the inconvenience and expense of moving the personnel of the commission were regarded as unjustified in view of the probability of an early settlement. Nothing regarding the character of the discussion today was announced by the commissioners.

TO PROBE SOARING FOODSTUFF PRICES

Chicago, Nov. 1.—Drastic and immediate action will be taken in the federal investigation of the soaring prices of food products, Charles F. Clyne, U. S. district attorney announced today.

Mr. Clyne said he had information that jobbers in Peoria, Springfield and East St. Louis hold daily conferences over long distance telephones and fix the prices of food stuffs.

"We are also informed," Mr. Clyne said, "that these same jobbers control prices on foods throughout Ohio, Missouri and Iowa and the Southern and Central portions of Illinois."

SEEK TO COMPEL RETURN OF COAL CARS

CHICAGO, Nov. 1.—Twenty six coal companies filed suit in the federal court here today to compel 100 railroads to return coal cars to the rails of the Chicago & Eastern Illinois railroad and the Chicago, Terre Haute and Southeastern railway on whose lines the coal companies have mines. The bill charges that the railroads utilize cars which come upon their runs and that the failure to return them has forced the mines to be operated on part time, resulting in a coal shortage in Chicago.

The coal companies operate 55 mines with an aggregate output of 70,000 tons daily of bituminous coal according to the bill.

DEUTSCHLAND HAS $10,000,000 CARGO

Carries Dyestuffs and Drugs According to Cap- tain Paul Koenig

BREMEN IS GIVEN UP

Commander States Craft Also Has Stocks, Bonds and Precious Stones

GIVES SUMMARY OF TRIP

NEW LONDON, Conn., Nov. 1.—Ten million dollars worth of dyestuffs and drugs, it was said, and "possibly stocks, bonds and precious stones" comprise the cargo of the German Submarine Merchantman Deutschland, according to a statement tonight by Captain Paul Koenig, commander of the craft.

The Deutschland is in this port after making a second voyage from a German port to the American coast, despite the watchfulness of British and French war vessels.

First of the undersea merchantmen by use of which Germany hopes to keep open a trade route with the United States, the Deutschland according to her captain is at present the only vessel of that fleet. The Bremen, which started a voyage from this city after which she was named on August 26th, he said, has been given up as lost. He thought she "must have struck a mine" but he added, "she has not fallen a victim to this almost blockade. I am sure of that."

The Amerika, which some reports have indicated was a merchant submarine captured by the British never existed, Captain Koenig asserted. "The Deutschland must keep up this traffic alone for the present," he said. "In a fortnight I shall be gone. I hope to return before the end of the year."

It was possible, he added, that other merchant submarines would be built by that time.

In a summary of his voyage, just completed, Captain Koenig who returned with decorations from German royalty as marks of recognition for his pioneer voyage, said this was a "quiet trip." Recital of its incidents, however, developed matters of lively interest. The Deutschland did not lie on the ocean floor this time as in the voyage which ended at Baltimore last July. The submarine instead varied the monotony of its sailing under water or on the surface with occasional dodges beneath vessels identified as warships of belligerent nationality or thought to be. Seven times Captain Koenig said, he maneuvered in this way. The last time was off Nantucket yesterday when he sighted a "four funneled steamer" and dived beneath her.

"The storms gave me more trouble than this so-called blockade," he continued. "We were beset by heavy southwest gales for days and they were with us most of the way across. Fog also hindered us. We might as well have been submerged the weather was so thick at times."

The superstructure of the Deutschland was denuded by the blows of seas, but she suffered no severe damage, her commander said.

Leaving Bremen on Oct. 1st, the Deutschland had moved only a short distance out of the harbor when she came in collision with a tug which "was so foolish as to run into us," said Captain Koenig. The Deutschland was forced to return for repairs. The venture was begun again on Oct. 10, and the engines after being started on that day were not stopped until the Deutschland came into the slip prepared for her here.

"A heavy southwest gale was on when we went thru the North Sea, crossing between Scotland and Orkney Islands in the Fair Channel. I took the shortest course on the chart for New London. The blockading ships were many but we passed them or rather went under them. The storm followed us and we were tossed many hours."

Captain Koenig said the Deutschland was kept under way on surface during most of the disturbance, but at times he had her submerged and under water she moved up and down easily with the seas."

So severe was the storm that at times the submarine made only a mile an hour headway. In all she was delayed three days, her captain figured and fuel was consumed at a rate far in excess of normal.

The Deutschland was still supplied for "nearly thirty days" when she came in.

Words Were Prophetic.

Nearly thirty years ago A. Conan Doyle, creator of Sherlock Holmes, wrote a novel called "The White Company." The story dealt with the early history of England. In his closing paragraph Mr. Doyle wrote words which in view of the events of the past two years are indeed prophetic. He said, "The sky may darken, and the clouds may gather, and again the day may come when Britain may have sore need of her children, on whatever shore of the sea they be found. Shall they not gather at her call?"

This surely has come to pass. Britain has had, and still has sore need of her children. They have responded to her call from the shore of every sea in the world.

Only Promise of Reform.

The Mexican constitutional assembly, which is to convene today, will adjourn for a month after organization and thus the public will be kept in doubt some further time about the reforms that are planned. But the public can stand this suspense as nobody expects that the constitutionalists have enough power to carry into real effect any of the important changes that they may advocate. The ruling influence in Mexican politics for years seems to have been to increase the wealth of the leaders, no matter what the cost to the people.

Mixing Self and Public Interests.

The American Road Builders' association, said to be the oldest organization in the country devoted to improvement of roads and streets will begin an annual convention in New York tomorrow. Very fittingly, the sessions will be staged at the automobile club for the automobile has come to be almost a dominant factor in road improvement. One thing that works to the injury of road improvement associations is the fact that in many of them selfish interests are at work in the effort to promote some particular type of road building in order to push the sales of certain classes of materials. When selfish interest is entirely eliminated from the better roads movement greater progress will be made.

The announcement by the state civil service commission that examination for appointment to a position at one of the state institutions has been postponed indicates the difficulty under which the board must now operate. The salaries offered for most of the state positions are practically the same as paid in years gone by. When conditions are slow industrially there are a great many applications for these state positions, even at moderate salaries, but with so many avenues of work open to men, the number of those seeking the state positions is correspondingly smaller.

SHORTER BALLOT THE RULE IN EARLIER DAYS

Union Ticket In This County Fifty Years Ago Compared With Present Year's Sheet—Some Famous Names.

In these days when there is an increasing demand for a "shorter ballot" it is good to look backward fifty years at the ballots then used in the general election. At The Journal office can be seen a ballot measuring eight inches long and four inches wide, which had the names of all the national and state candidates on the Union ticket. In addition to the names of Abraham Lincoln for president, Andrew Johnson for vice president, there appear the names of sixteen presidential electors and fourteen candidates for state, district or county offices.

By comparison with this ballot the official men's ballot in the coming election measures about twenty-eight by twenty inches. Then there is the woman's ballot and a separate ballot for questions of public policy, and when the three are put together and published in the newspapers as required by law they will occupy three and one half pages. Those were the days of simple living and the change in the size of ballot, the number of parties and the number of candidates well illustrates how complex are political and social conditions today by comparison with those of fifty years ago.

The Union ticket referred to appeared in form somewhat as follows and has a special interest because of many notable names in that list of candidates. Among the local men G. P. Smith, who was a candidate for senator, was at one time owner of The Journal. The well known Marshall P. Ayers was a candidate for representative and T. G. Taylor was the father of Capt. Frank C. Taylor. Elias Metcalf, Cyrus Mathews and John A. Lightfoot are names also intimately connected with the history of Morgan county.

portant county officers to be elected. Their term of office will be for four years. They will be public servants of the people of Morgan county and it is the duty as well as the privilege of each citizen to give consideration to the claims of the respective candidates who offer themselves for these positions. For the office of state's attorney the Republicans have nominated Carl E. Robinson.

Mr. Robinson possesses the qualifications that will enable him to serve the people of Morgan county well in that position. He has a clean record behind him that argues well for his future conduct as a man and as an official. Carl Robinson can be trusted with the office of state's attorney. He will bring to the office a strong personality, untiring industry, unquestioned integrity and in the discharge of his official duties he will render efficient service.

Vote for Carl E. Robinson for State's Attorney.

The Old Fashioned Rally.

Tonight the Hughes alliance of Massachusetts, the Republican club of Massachusetts and the Young Republicans of Massachusetts will combine to revive in Boston an old time political torchlight parade. Big delegations are expected from cities in various parts of Massachusetts and the indications are for a monster demonstration with the claims of the kind that characterized presidential campaigns of twenty years ago. Certainly those old time rallies and parades added mightily to the campaign interest and the average man down in his heart prefers that type of campaign to the present day educational and "gum shoe" methods. There was more partisanship in those days than now and the results of partisanship were not always bad, just as by-partisanship combinations today are not always good.

Illinois Women's Vote.

Both Republicans and Democrats are claiming to have a very accurate line on what the women of Illinois are going to do next Tuesday when they express their privileges on the presidency. One had just as well be frank and admit that there is a lot of doubt about just what the women will do. But there are indications that the women of the state intend quite generally to avail themselves of the opportunity they have for the first time of assisting in selecting the head of the nation. When it is called to mind that the city of Chicago alone has 364,261 qualified women voters he must be a highly endowed prophet who can certainly tell just what effect the woman's vote will have on the general result equipment was provided for their care.

Mrs. B. was provided for in the women's ward, while the seven children were placed in the children's ward.

Before many months they all had improved so remarkably that one could hardly believe it was the same family which, a few months previously, was found just in time to be saved from the great white plague.

We are "our brother's keeper," and the great question comes home to each of us at some time, either through family or friends. Then, too, you may be in a predicament similar to that of Mrs. B. yourself, some day. By voting on November 7th for the levy of a tax for a county tuberculosis sanatorium, you will be making an effort to save human life.

PEACE THAT'S WORTH THE NAME

There are hearts filled with rejoicing that we've been kept from war. And breathing prayers of thankfulness because it's kept afar. But a son of Philadelphia was slain at Vera Cruz.

And other sons were falling, so flashed the wireless news. The sons of many mothers died there at Carizal.

And infants with their mothers have fallen in the brawl. The raids upon the border have added to the scores. And war has been a knocking right at our very doors.

Poor mothers' hearts are saddened because of soldiers dead.

Yet we say "it was not war" when their boys fought and bled. We feel in every fibre the sabre's thrust and sting.

Why glory in our freedom? Why joyously we sing? Why are we thanking heaven our country has no war,

But say that all its horrors are stalking very far. Are we not making bullets to reach our brother's heart.

And feel not for his misery, because we're far apart?

III. His money we are taking, right prosperous are we. But the babes and wives are starving in that land beyond the sea.

The war is right upon us, it touches you and me. We are tottering to our falling, and blind we must not be.

Our rifles and our cotton, our steel and corn and wheat. Our wagons, mules and horses, supplies for army meat.

Are bringing in the money and adding to our store. But the shining of the dollar is red with human gore.

IV. The shipping of our products is running prices high. Yet our poor are standing hungry because they cannot buy.

Now pause ye sons of Adam. Take note I beg of you. With prices soaring skyward what will the poor man do?

With fuel growing scarcer, he's shivering on his bed; His hungry children calling, how can he give them bread?

And now I ask you kindly might we not call this war. That is gnawing at our vitals, with red and frightful scar?

V. We bow our heads in meekness, we can not lift a hand. Our peace is without glory, and shamed we sadly stand.

Our great and golden eagle no longer proudly soars. For grey are turned his feathers at the fear upon our shores.

That flag that's waving o'er us has been thro' many wars. And the stains upon its colors have been from honored scars;

Those stains glow white with glory, not red with craven's shame. For the peace that's won with honor is the peace that's worth the name.

—S. Adrian Hughes.

A quartet of Illinois college students will open the meeting with popular music.

SEEK TO LOCATE

FACTORY HERE

A number of Jacksonville citizens spent Wednesday in St. Louis interviewing the president of a large manufacturing concern with a view to securing the location of the business here.

The party included Mayor Henry J. Rodgers, M. R. Fitch, Bernard Gause, Jay Rodgers, Henry Frisch and W. J. Brady. They had quite a satisfactory interview but the fact that the company is seeking a new location is known to a number of cities in both Illinois and Missouri and various propositions have been made. However, it is entirely likely that a representative of the company will later come to Jacksonville to look over the possibilities here. As in all such enterprises, questions of freight rates, fuel costs and the possibility of securing labor enter into the consideration of the proposition.

MEETING AT HOME OF ## MRS. NANNIE BLUE

At three p. m. yesterday the colored ladies of the city were invited to meet at the home of Mrs. Nannie Blue to hear Mrs. West of Chicago. A fine gathering was present and those who were so fortunate as to attend heard the issues of the day most capably discussed. Mrs. West entertained and instructed all who heard her.

As this is the first time the colored women will have a vote for president it is but proper that they should be well posted and certainly they have had good instruction this week.

President Wilson has expressed his interest in Congressman Rainey's campaign by sending him the following letter:

Shadow Lawn,
October 23, 1916.

My dear Mr. Rainey:

May I not express to you my appreciation of the work you are doing in the campaign and my hope that you are not neglecting your own interests too much? It would be a very serious disappointment to us all if you were yourself not returned to Congress. I take it for granted, however, that your constituents know and value you too much to make that possible.

Cordially and sincerely yours,
Woodrow Wilson.

OCTOBER WEATHER

October was a drier month than usual and a trifle cooler. A maximum temperature of 89 on the 5th was matched by the 21st and 26th when temperatures of 28 degrees were recorded, according to the monthly summary of George H. Hall, U. S. weather observer. The mean for the month was 55.4 or .6 below the normal.

Rainfall was 1.50 inch, or .52 inch below normal. There was an unmelting snowfall of 3 inches and some of this snow, which fell Oct. 20, remained on the ground for four days. October had 16 clear days, six which were partly cloudy and nine cloudy days.

COLLECTING PAPER

Seventh and eighth grade pupils of the David Prince school are engaged this week in collecting old papers and magazines for baling purposes. The students have been divided into ten sections of thirty each and all have entered a contest to see who can bring in the most paper during the week. It has been suggested that persons able to contribute paper of any kind notify Miss White, principal of the building, if there are none of the children in the neighborhood to take the paper.

Proceeds from the sale of this paper will be used for the purchase of apparatus and equipment for the David Prince school.

not so? The program of that new party aside from the items that you would expect in all programs was a program of social justice, and look what happened. More than four million men joined its ranks at the polls, not all of them, of course, I dare say, men who had thought the matter out, but all of them who felt that impulse. There are things that we ought to see to that we have not been seeing to—the health, the moral opportunity, the just treatment, the neighborly relationships of men of all sorts and classes and conditions. I tell you, my fellow citizens, until a political party or any group of men get that thought at their hearts, they are unfit for the national confidence.

"That is the sort of question that we have to face in the future. And then there are the most important questions of organization. It is all very well to know that justice is, but it is another thing to know how to make it work. Christianity has been accepted by a large part of the world for several centuries, but we have never yet quite discovered the organization that made it work.

"Now we have got to organize these relationships between classes. We have got to organize also the relationship between the private initiative and governmental action. Take a matter such as the development of our merchant marine.

"I am just as anxious as anybody can be that private capital should be given the freest opportunity to develop the carrying trade under the flag of the United States and I advocated for one the shipping bill which has been made law only because after we had waited indefinitely for private enterprise to undertake the thing, it had not undertaken it, and we couldn't wait, it had to be undertaken. But it was undertaken with the understanding that if the government took the initiative the government was to withdraw when private capital was ready to take its place, that the object was not to forestall and prevent private capital, but to go where private capital would not go. It seems to me that that furnishes an example of the relationship that may exist in many other matters between governmental action and private initiative. When things are necessary to be done, the government ought not to hesitate to do them if somebody else does not undertake it and, therefore, social relationships can be guided, the relations of classes to each other can be organized by government influence and initiative.

"There is another set of questions we have got to face—all the relations of this country to the rest of the world. Out of a heterogeneous nation we have got to make a unit in which no slightest line of division is visible beyond our borders. Variety of opinion among ourselves there may be discussion, free counsel as to what we ought to do, but so far as every other nation is concerned, we must be absolutely a unit.

"And I want to register my solemn protest here against the use of our foreign relationships for political advantage. I can not, I will not regard any man as a patriot who does that—men who in the midst of the most critical relationships, the detail of which they do not know, make play with the loss of the lives of American citizens even in order that they may create a domestic political advantage. That illustrates what I have come here to preach. Use political parties, but do not make partisan use of them. I am not meaning for a moment to imply that there are not men on the other side who feel exactly as I do; I am merely pointing out a moral. Just so soon as our political parties are used for partisan objects they become a menace to the public peace and an obstacle to the wise selection of policy.

"So, my fellow citizens, it is for that reason that I am glad we are near the end of a political campaign when the distempers of prejudiced discussion will be broken away by the wholesome airs to which we are accustomed in this country when men will cease to think of each other as antagonists and begin to think of each other as co-operating lovers of their country. Political advantage has no dignity unless it is accompanied by large, definite, avowed patriotic purpose.

"So I would mean to intimate that the wisdom and discretion of Buffalo is not contained in this room, it is not contained in any other room in Buffalo, I venture to say. Moreover, it is not contained in Buffalo, because Buffalo is part of the United States and nowhere in the United States can it be located. We all belong to a great indivisible team, and we are effective in proportion as we play with the team and effective as we play against the team. It is this lesson of co-operation to which I am always returning and when the talk is over we will get down to business."

purpose to use the armament for aggression is essential.

"A belligerent warship, can, on the high seas test by actual experience the purpose of an armament on an enemy merchant vessel, and so determine by direct evidence the status of the vessel."

If the case narrows down to a question of armament, the outcome would appear to hinge upon whether the Marina resisted the submarines or attempted to flee. The mere question of armament for defensive purposes, such as is usual on merchant ships would seem to be eliminated so far as the United States is concerned.

Mr. Lansing announced today that the United States stood on the same ground it took in the Sussex note which warned Germany that unless attacks without warning on peaceful merchant ships were discontinued, the United States would have no choice but to sever diplomatic relations altogether.

The privately expressed opinion of some officials, is that, should the destruction of the Marina without warning be admitted, Germany may contend that her guarantees in the Sussex case did not apply to armed ships which she maintains are under instructions of the British admiralty to destroy submarines. In that event the United States would be confronted with determining whether the situation permits of further negotiation or whether it calls for action consistent with the statements in the Sussex note.

Until all the facts are gathered and substantiated by legal evidence and until Germany's version of the affair is at hand, it is doubtful if the state department will permit any of the developments to become public. When the case is complete the ultimate decision will rest with President Wilson who is being kept in touch with the situation.

TO LEAVE FOR AUTO TRIP IN THE WEST

Donald Joy and Turner Antrobus Will Travel Overland to California.

Donald Joy of this city and Turner Antrobus of Chapin expect to start today in a National Speedster for an overland journey to California. The trip is taken primarily for pleasure, though some business may be transacted along the way. The first stop will be at Colorado Springs for a visit with Mr. Joy's sister, Mrs. Shaw, and then the southern Santa Fe trail will be taken on down through San Diego to Los Angeles. The travelers expect to put up at hotels by the way and to be gone all winter.

FEW APPLICATIONS.

The state civil service commission has just issued announcement that the examination for foreman of the grounds at the state school for the deaf this year will not be held until December 2. The examination was postponed because so few applications were made. As the position pays $50 to $75 a month with full maintenance the commission was somewhat surprised that more applications were not received.

During the trip of 4,500 miles the Deutschland traveled under water less than 100 miles, "ninety five, I should think," Captain Koenig said.

"They call it a blockade. You can judge how much it blocks," the skipper exclaimed. The questions whether the submarine brought to this country among its drug consignments any medicine that might contain relief from infantile paralysis, Captain Koenig replied in the negative. There is such a serum in Germany, he said, but its development requires tests thru monkeys.

"There are no more monks in Germany since the war, so they can't make it," was his explanation.

Neither Captain Koenig nor Paul L. G. Hilken, vice-president of the Eastern Forwarding Company, to which the Deutschland's cargo is consigned would give the details of her cargo. She carried drugs and dyes they said and each "thought" she might have on board jewels and securities. In weight the cargo aggregated 500 tons. The Deutschland brought also a packet of official mail for the German ambassador and some private correspondence. The official matter was sent to the German embassy at Washington in charge of the first officer of the submarine, Franz Krapohl. It was said here tonight that it was probable the Deutschland would carry mails under contract with the United States government on the return.

A cursory examination of the submarine by Collector of Customs James I. McGovern today developed nothing, he said, that would conflict with her classification as a merchantman. The fact that the Deutschland was officially classed as such at Baltimore will have no bearing on her standing at present, it was said.

Accordingly, officials of the naval station here at the request of customs officials, expect to make inspections tomorrow.

Captain Koenig said the only weapon aboard, as on his previous visit, was a revolver which he carried.

Reports of conflict between the Deutschland's officers and the naval officers at this port over dismantlement of the submarine's wireless apparatus in complying with the government's neutrality regulations, were denied both by Captain Koenig and Commander Stirling.

"The wireless of the Deutschland is sealed," the latter said.

The Deutschland is shrouded in strict secrecy. The walls of the shed which houses her return cargo, supposed to be rubber and nickel, form a protection at two sides. A fence surmounting a pontoon shuts off the entrance to the Thames river, and on the fourth side the North German Lloyd Steamer Willehad, acts as a barrier and as a home for the Deutschland's crew. Only a guard on the decks remained aboard the submarine tonight, Captain Koenig and his 28 men having removed their effects to the roomier steamship.

The mariners of this old time whaling port discussed with admiration today the feat of Captain Koenig in bringing his vessel into this port without pilot in the darkness of night and of fog. The slip into which he poked the Deutschland without assistance is a mile from the mouth of Thames river, almost to the railroad bridge from which Harvard-Yale crew races have started or finished for years. The chart which he used was drawn in 1860, he said. The captain learned he could submerge his craft at her dock and slip out to sea entirely under water, if he wished.

"We'll go out in daylight and we will not have to submerge so soon," he remarked.

Describing a visit to the German army headquarters on the east front where he was the guest of the Kaiser at dinner, Captain Koenig said he found the emperor in good health, "a little white and drawn but not at all weak."

He found the German people during his stay, he said, believing the war would last at least another year.

From the emperor the Deutschland's captain received the knight-hood cross of the Order of Hohenzollern, from the King of Bavaria, the Order of St. Michael; from the King of Wurttemberg, the knight-hood cross of Wurttemberg Crown and from rulers of two minor German states, crosses of honor.

ONCE A CUSTOMER AT HERMAN'S, ALWAYS A CUSTOMER.

"AMERICANIZED HERALDRY" is the designation high M. Duffy, watchmaker for Russell & Thompson, has applied to a fine method of hand engraving work he has developed. Mr. Duffy has turned attention to metal work of this kind as a pastime and he has now on exhibition some excellent samples of his craftsmanship. J. H. Boyle, manager of the Keystone, a leading jeweler's magazine wrote Mr. Duffy a letter of congratulation after inspecting the work.

HIRAM VAN GUNDY DIES AT BLUFFS HOME

Deceased Was Well Known Scott County Resident — Bluffs News Notes.

Bluffs, Nov. 1.—Hiram Van Gundy highly respected citizen of Bluffs, passed away at the home of his sister, Mrs. Margaret Tewksbury, Wednesday at 2 p. m., after an illness of one week of paralysis. Deceased was the second son of Mr. and Mrs. Adam Van Gundy and was born at the mile east of town, March 15, 1854, and at the time of death was 62 years, 7 months and 16 days old. In his younger years he took an active part in church work and was always found at his place in the choir. For a number of years and until a short time ago he was the town policeman a duty which he discharged faithfully and conscientiously. He was united in marriage in 1884 to Miss Ada Batley of Bluffs. To this union two sons were born, one dying in infancy. He is survived by one son, Charles Van Gundy, of Springfield, two grandsons, Durant and Jack Van Gundy, both of Springfield; also two sisters, Mrs. Margaret Tewksbury, Mrs. Ada Vannier and one brother, George Van Gundy. Funeral services will be held at the M. E. church at 2 p. m. Friday, the Rev. C. H. Smith, assisted by Rev. Phil Rinehart, officiating.

Dr. and Mrs. H. L. Day entertained about twenty-seven young people with a Halloween party at their home Tuesday evening. The party was a surprise for the former's daughter, Miss Marion. The house was tastefully decorated in autumn leaves and other Halloween decorations. Refreshments were served and Miss Marion presented with a handsome piano by the doctor.

J. H. Boscher of Chicago was here Tuesday and Wednesday morning of this week in interest of the Comet Automobile company.

Mrs. Finney and daughter, Miss Lela, were shopping in Jacksonville Tuesday.

Miss Ethel McCaleb expects to leave Thursday for an extended visit with relatives in Mulvane, Kan.

August Frohwitter is remodeling his dwelling and building an addition to same.

Mrs. Charles Van Gundy and children of Springfield, were called here Sunday by the illness of Mr. Van Gundy.

LONE BANDIT ROBS BANK

Niles, Mich., Nov. 1.—The State Bank at Eau Claire, about 20 miles north of here, was robbed of $4,050 late this afternoon by a bandit, who with a revolver, compelled the cashier, Vere Beckwith, to stand with his hands upraised while the money was being removed from the cashier's cage. Later tonight a sheriff's posse captured in a swamp between Eau Claire and Wovagiac, a man giving his name as Frank Rainey, Hillsdale, Mich. The officers say he admitted robbing the bank. The money it is said, was recovered.

JACKSONVILLE ART ASSOCIATION.

Directors of the Jacksonville Art association met in their beautiful new home, the David Strawn memorial, Wednesday afternoon. They voted to invite their own members and friends and all the friends of art in the city to their open meeting Monday, November 13, at 8 p. m. To see his most generous gift of Dr. Strawn and to enjoy the association's collection of oil paintings, water colors, copies of old masters' drawings, etc., a nucleus of which the city may well be proud—a prophecy of what the David Strawn memorial will be able to collect in future years to add to the pleasure, culture and education of the people in this "Athens of the West."

BOY DEAD OF INTESTINAL ULCER

Waukegan, Ill., Nov. 1.—William Paul Camdron, the nine year old boy whose death resulted in charges against Ester Overlander and Edzie McDougal that he had died from a spanking they gave him, died of intestinal ulcer, a coroner's jury decided today. Physicians said the spanking was merely a coincidence.

WILLIAM POLLOK IDES.

New York, Nov. 1.—William Pollok of this city, for many years an exhibitor of trotting horses at the New York Horse Show died here today at the age of 57. Among the better known horses he had owned were Holmesdale Magnum, Nero, Osceola and Baron Ban. He was a graduate of Phillips Exeter Academy and of Yale, class of 1882.

REV. J. D. MOFFATT STRICKEN.

Washington, Penn., Nov. 1.—Rev. James D. Moffatt, president emeritus of Washington and Jefferson College was stricken with paralysis last night and little hope was held out for his recovery today.

BEGIN WORK ON NAVAL BILL.

Washington, Nov. 1.—Work already has begun on next year's naval appropriation bill. Preliminary draft of the measure is being prepared. The bill will be larger, it is said, when presented to the house than last year's measure which carried $313,000,000.

FIND COPELAND NOT GUILTY.

Galveston, Tex., Nov. 1.—John Copeland, charged with the killing of William Black, an anti-Catholic lecturer, was found not guilty by a jury in the district court here early today.

REVENUE FROM SALOONS DROPS

Chicago, Oct. 31.—This city's revenue will drop $75,000 next year by the lapse of 75 saloon licenses for the year beginning November 1. There remain, however, 7100 saloons in operation.

OFFER NO PROSPECT OF RELIEF FROM SHORTAGE

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 1.—Reports tonight from the great Hocking mining district of Ohio, offer no prospect of relief from the acute coal and coal car shortage in the state.

The largest operators of the district with orders booked for weeks ahead, are unable to secure cars, and most of the mines are being worked on one third time. No relief is considered possible within a matter of days. Ohio operators of Athens, the center of the coal district report that they are unable to supply their northwest trade, except in small quantities.

The Ohio river is now at a low stage, necessitating light shipments and the supply of coal for the south is decreased accordingly.

W. H. TAFT ATTACKS FREE TRADE TARIFF

STUEBENVILLE, O., Nov. 1.—Former President William H. Taft attacked free trade tariff, the Adamson law, war prosperity and the foreign policy of the Wilson administration in an address here tonight attended by a large crowd. "Unwise subservency to demands of labor leaders finds its crowning instance on Mr. Wilson's dealings with the threatened railway strike," said Mr. Taft, "under threat, the president and congress betrayed the cause of arbitration and imposed one of the greatest humiliations to which the nation has been subjected. President Wilson was after votes, showing that the real interests of the country had little weight with him."

"What we want now is a competent man to get us out of the Mexican mess," said Mr. Taft.

EARTHQUAKE SHAKES HOMES.

Glen Falls, Nov. 1.—An earthquake shock which lasted several seconds was felt in sections of north New York tonight. At this place, which apparently was the center of the disturbance, houses were shaken so severely dishes were thrown from shelves and pictures from walls. No serious damage has been reported.

BANDITS ROB MONEY WAGON.

Chicago, Nov. 1.—Six armed men stepped from a motor car a few blocks from the center of the city tonight, held up the money wagon of the Adams Express company as it was returning from the Union station and escaped with $1,000.

SOME FARM THEMES

BUYS BLACKBURN FARM.

Taylor Gilliam, father of Mrs. John S. Hackett of this city, recently purchased the George D. Blackburn farm, three miles north of Jacksonville. The purchase was made from C. A. Johnson and J. Weir Elliott, trustees under the will. The tract comprises 180 acres, most of it rolling land. It was purchased by Mr. Blackburn from the Samuel Garrett estate. The land is especially suited for stock raising and it is very probable that Mr. Gilliam will operate the farm himself at the expiration of the present lease, in March, 1918.

Mr. Gilliam's home at present is at East St. Louis and he has for many years conducted an extensive business as a livestock dealer.

Wheat At Good Price.

Abe Dinwiddie of the northeast part of the county was among the city's callers yesterday. The gentleman just sold his wheat for $1.75 and has a large crop of corn which he is not in any hurry to dispose of.

J. B. C. GRADUATION

Tuesday evening, Nov. 21, has been fixed upon as the date for annual commencement exercises at Jacksonville Business college. The address will be given by Harlan E. Read of St. Louis, one of the managers of the Brown's Business college system.

Y. M. C. A. MEMBERSHIP

The total membership of the Young Men's Christian association is now 469, according to announcement made at the Y. M. C. A. building yesterday afternoon. Consistent follow-up work is gradually increasing the membership and a number have been added since the close of the recent campaign.

RAFFLE SWAMP'S SUTTON.

St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 1.—William Sutton, of New York ran 500 billards tonight to $5 for G. Butler Sutton of Chicago, in the third block of their 1,500 point 18.2 balk line billiard match here. The complete score for the match was Hoppe 1,500; Sutton 508.

Hoppe had a high run tonight of 87 and made another of 108. Sutton's best was 51. The play was completed in eleven innings.

MORTUARY

McKee.

Mrs. Mary McKee died at her home in St. Louis Tuesday night at the age of 80 years. Mrs. McKee was formerly a resident of Waverly and will be remembered by a number of the older residents in that vicinity. The remains will be brought to this city and burial will be made in Jacksonville cemetery.

The deceased is survived by one daughter, Miss Susie McKee of St. Louis.

Lippert.

Herman Lippert, Sr., died Wednesday afternoon at the home of his daughter, Mrs. John Nickel, 1 1-2 miles south of Arenalville. Mr. Lippert was born in 1830 in Hesse, Darmstadt, Germany, and came with his parents to this country at the age of four years. The family settled on a farm three miles northwest of Arenalville and there Mr. Lippert resided until his parents' death. Mr. Lippert remained at farm work until 1852 when he went to California, making the trip by a long overland trip of six months. He returned to Illinois in 1862 and the same year was married to Miss Mary Daub. Six children were born to this union, two of whom survive, Mrs. Nickel and Herman Lippert, Jr. Mrs. Lippert passed away about fourteen years ago. Mr. Lippert at the time of death was 86 years, 9 months and 23 days old.

The deceased was a man who, though well endowed with the goods of this world, was yet a man of upright character and kindly disposition. His dealings were always fair and his passing will be noted with regret by the many who have come to know and respect him.

Funeral services will be held Friday afternoon at 1 o'clock at the Arenalville Presbyterian church. Burial will be made in Arenalville cemetery.

NO PARTY GIVEN

Mrs. C. C. Hard of Hardin avenue requests the Journal to state that the account of a party at her home Tuesday night was in error and that she did not entertain upon the evening in question.

VETERAN MINISTER DIES AT HOME IN MISSOURI

J. A. Headington, Uncle of J. T. Osborne, dead in 78th Year—Was Forty-Five Years a Christian Minister—Burial at Antioch.

The Rev. J. A. Headington, a former resident of Morgan county, died Wednesday morning at 4 o'clock at his home in Mexico, Mo., according to word received in the city by his nephews, D. W., C. A. and J. T. Osborne. Mr. Headington was forty-five years a Christian minister. He was born in this county and spent his youth and early manhood here.

The body is expected to arrive Friday afternoon and burial will probably be made at Antioch cemetery. Mr. Headington was 77 years old at the time of death. He married Miss Ute Dorsey of Madison county, Illinois, and she preceded him in death. Two daughters survive, Mrs. Ute McCall, of Fulton, Mo., and Mrs. Maggie Gregory, of Mexico, Mo.

AT THE GRAND.

The "Standing room only" sign was out early at the Grand Opera house Wednesday night. Manager Johnson had an audience which would surely make his heart glad, for every available seat was taken and many patrons went standing.

"Twin Beds," as presented under the direction of A. S. Stern & Co., proved a thoroughly entertaining comedy. The play has had a remarkable run in the larger cities and the audience last night could well understand the popularity of the play. The staging of the play goes far towards its success. A special baggage car of scenery is carried and the costumes also is elaborate.

"Twin Beds" might well be termed a laughing success for it was evidently written with the one purpose in view of creating laughter, and the hilarity begins early in the first act and continues until the final fall of the curtain. "Twin Beds" details the complications which follow when three married couples, seeking separation from each other, find themselves unwelcome tenants in the same apartment house. The most complicated situations follow and the fun increases as the situations become more tense.

The presenting company last night was capable and the audience "thoroly pleased." To say that the company is capable means much for no players numbering but seven, any weakling would mar the whole production. The test cast was strong in every instance.

FUNERALS

McColley. Funeral services for Samuel McColley were held from Centenary church, Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in charge of the Rev. L. Pletcher. Hymns were sung by Miss Fern Haigh and Miss Edith Carlson. The flowers were cared for by Miss Amanda Schildman and Miss Esther Carlson. At the grave the funeral service of the G. A. R. was carried out. Burial was in the Jacksonville cemetery to the bereaved John Schaub, Matthew King, George Paul, Peter Leichter, M. Jenthal and S. T. Madox.

ANOTHER SHIFT ON WESLEYAN TEAM

Another shift will be made in the Wesleyan forward wall this afternoon. Coach Muhl announced today that he would send Ivan Tett to tackle and that the former Dartmouth man would be Sterling's running mate Friday if he comes up to expectations in practice. The weakness of the left flank was so visible in yesterday's practice that Muhl felt another change was absolutely essential before the Illinois game. This will allow the use of Mills at end and Whitesell will be Kumer's running mate at halfback. Capt. McFarland at fullback and Appelgate at quarter will round out the quartet that will start the game with the Blue.

The closing session will be that of Thursday evening. Those in attendance from this city will be Mrs. F. B. Madden, Mrs. H. L. Griswold, Mrs. Tunison, Miss Sarah Groves, Mrs. Charles Hopper and son Charles. The latter will go from Decatur to Paris, Ill., for a brief visit with relatives.

TO TRAP MUSKRATS AT NICHOLS PARK

Muskrats have made much trouble in and about the lake at Nichols park and various means have been adopted to get rid of them. John Lewis, an expert trapper, has undertaken to catch the varmints and the park board has given him the exclusive privilege to trap in and about the lake.

ORLEANS COUNTRY CLUB BEGINS NEW YEAR

Many Topics of Interest Contained in New 1916-17 Calendar—Club Stands As Pioneer Organization Among Woman's Societies in the County.

Themes of varied interest are contained in the new programs of the Orleans Woman's club, just off the press. The Orleans club, unlike most organizations of the kind, meets all the year round. The subjects for study range from landscape gardening to native birds and from Illinois history to questions of national development. Toward the last of next year several meetings will be given over to the study of Mexico and its people.

The Orleans Woman's Country club was organized in 1895 and was federated in 1901. Woman's country clubs have of recent years been organized in other parts of Morgan county, but for a considerable time the Orleans club stood a pioneer in its field.

Next week there will be celebrated the twenty-first anniversary of the founding of the club. This anniversary meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. A. A. Curry, Wednesday, November 8. The committee for preparation of the calendar this year consisted of Mrs. Frank E. Drury, Mrs. J. H. Dobyns, Mrs. Clyde Stevenson and Miss Matilda Richardson. At the suggestion of Mrs. Richardson each member was requested to hand in some subject of especial interest to her and this in part accounts for the interesting variety of the year's program.

Members of the Club.

Following are the present members of the Woman's Country club: Mrs. J. W. Arnold, Mrs. William Cleary, Mrs. Clyde Cox, Mrs. Margaret Colwell, Mrs. James Cunningham, Miss Blanch Cunningham, Mrs. A. A. ## THE LAST WORD.

The last word in car service was completed today when C. N. Priest, The Ford Man, added Lee Puncture Proof Tires and Tubes to his accessory stock. Mr. Priest from some cause or other was chosen from among all the other dealers in the city to represent the company in the sale of this the Best of All Tires.

OLD ENGLISH THEMES AT LIBRARY STORY HOURS

Robin Hood ballads and other tales of a story hour series, given weekly by Miss Frances Cox, children's librarian, for the first year English pupils at Jacksonville high school. The first number was given last week and so great was the interest that it was thought best to divide the class into two sections.

Jerry Hawks, near Meredosa, was among Wednesday visitors in Jacksonville.

WINCHESTER

Mrs. E. J. Frost and Miss Louise Frost left Wednesday afternoon for a visit in St. Louis.

Mrs. J. W. Eckman was a visitor in Jacksonville Tuesday and Wednesday.

Dr. James Miner and Miss Bertha Miner, with their guests, Mr. and Mrs. Miner of Rochester N. Y., went to Waverly Tuesday and spent a very pleasant day in Dr. Miner's former home.

Miss Callie Moses returned from Roseville the first of the week after completing her engagement as trimmer.

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Hitt of Merritt were in Winchester Wednesday. Miss Martha Woodington, who for some time has been quite ill at her home, remains about the same.

The high school juniors were at the home of Miss Frances Northcutt for their party Tuesday night, instead of at the home of David Watt, as was stated. A few friends spent a social evening at the Watt home.

Mrs. George Brengle, Mrs. Dan T. Smith, Mrs. E. J. Frost, Mrs. Gus Sprouse, Mrs. Sol Hainsfurther and Miss Mary Woodall gave a pleasant surprise Tuesday evening to Mrs. Edward Smith in honor of her birthday. The guests went at 6 o'clock with well filled baskets and at 6:30 o'clock all sat down to a bountiful luncheon, which was much enjoyed.

REPUBLICAN RECORD MERITS PUBLIC FAITH

PARTY LAUDED AT ARMORY HALL MEET.

Has Given Colored Men All Political Help Ever Received—Wilson's Policies Criticized.

A splendid meeting which filled Armory hall was held last evening in the interest of the Republican ticket. It was especially under the auspices of the colored Republican organizations of the city and certainly was a grand success. Chairman Graff called the gathering to order and turned the meeting over to Chairman Wm. Parrish, who in turn called on Mrs. Laura Lafayette to introduce the first speaker of the evening. With a few well chosen words Mrs. Lafayette presented Mrs. Cordelia West of Chicago. Mrs. West's address was replete with wit, eloquence and pathos as well as sound logic and she was constantly interrupted with hearty applause. She said in part:

When Ma's Away.
"The women of Illinois have been in the background politically but are coming forward to vote for Hughes and return the party that has been taking a vacation. The country has been very much like home when Ma is gone. The bread is heavy; the pies don't taste right and things are wrong generally. Everything has advanced in price except our wages. The Republican party has been the party of freedom. The colored race was sent out into the world emancipated, penniless, no education and no occupation and see what we have done in fifty years. We colored women are going to vote for Hughes and next Wednesday morning we can say we helped elect him."

"Then we must keep united after election, for sooner or later we shall have the full franchise. You men say the women should stay at home, but you made a bad mess of things politically without us. The Republican party has made mistakes, but it is the only party that has done anything for the colored man. The Democratic party never did anything for our race. Possibly some colored man might sell out, but the women never. The jobs should be given to us and not to the foreigners who come here. If we are united then men will come and ask us what we want."

Wilson's Attitude to Colored Race.
We must show to the world that we merit respect and we shall get it. Our race of servitude are past and we should hold up our heads as true freemen. Women go early to the polls, put your X in the second circle from the left and go home and go to work. It would be a disgrace for any colored man to vote for Wilson; he has segregated our clerks in Washington and shown every indignity. Colored men, vote for Lowden, who came from poverty and all stand manfully for Charles E. Hughes for president."

Ray Anderson, state central committeeman and residing at Pittsfield, was next introduced and made a strong address on the leading issues of the day. The gentleman is a forceful speaker and logical in all his positions. He said he was wholly unable to see how any colored man could ever vote the Democratic ticket. No one ever heard of the Democratic party doing anything for the colored race. The South is in the saddle today and is the enemy of the African race, which wouldn't have a vote in a thousand years if left to the Democratic party.

In Mexico.
"Wilson sent troops to Mexico to compel Huerta, whom he had not recognized, to salute the flag. United States troops walked alongside of a railroad and were ambushed and but cheered by Carranza troops and the black men at the front and fought nobly, but never has there been a step taken to avenge that act. The Mexicans don't dare molest a German or an Englishman, but they have no respect for an American or a Chinaman. Elect Charles E. Hughes president and we shall have a man who all nations will respect."

Mr. Parrish then called on Rev. Mr. Carter to introduce Dr. A. J. Carey of Chicago, the chief speaker of the evening. Mr. Carter told of the good work being done in Kentucky and Missouri, where there were actually hopes of carrying the state for the Republican party. With highly complimentary remarks he then introduced Dr. Carey, who made a brilliant address full of argument, satire, eloquence and logic. He was constantly applauded and heard with close attention. He spoke in very complimentary terms of Mrs. West, who lived in her own fine house on Wabash avenue, Chicago, and is a member of his church. Only a very small part of his speech is practicable.

Change in Representation Needed.
"Why is the South in the saddle today? Because the men of the North are cowards. The representation in congress should be only according to the votes cast and would be so if Northern men were not afraid to change the law. Then their representation in the electoral college would be reduced also. Their votes don't cost the Democratic party fifteen cents. Crispus Atticus was the first colored man to lay down his life for his country and since his time many others have done so. At San Juan hill several attempts were made to carry the day, but not until the Ninth and Tenth regular cavalry came up was it accomplished."

"When Lincoln asked for 25,000 more troops from Illinois, Joseph Medill went to him and said the war was a failure and then it was that the colored troops responded 200,000 strong. In Mexico two white men were killed and 17 colored. The white men were brought home and buried with honor; the bodies of the colored men were brought home and Wilson even made them travel a back street through Washington to the cemetery."

U. S. and the White Feather.
"It is not to say he has kept us out of war. Nobody wanted to fight us. The other nations simply wanted to have a little fun out of the nation that had no backbone and always showed the white feather. They just wanted to pull Wilson's nose and get him to write a note. When Wilson was president of Princeton University no colored students were found there. Wilson is paraded as the poor man's friend, yet the prices of food have gone soaring. He abjectly helped make the law that eight hours would be a day and people will have to pay the bill if it holds. He and Gompers fixed up the whole scheme to catch the labor vote with a bald surrender to the unions representing but a small part of the great body of laborers. "The only safe thing to do is to elect as president Charles E. Hughes and the whole Republican ticket."

HUGHES DELIVERS FIVE ADDRESSES

to them than the prosperity of the iron and steel industry.

"We know that on account of the European war the exports of iron and steel jumped in a year from $251,000,000 to over $621,000,000 he said "an increase of two and a half times because of the great demand created by the European war. That was a demand caused in very large part by the needs or munitions; it was also caused in very large part by the fact that men on the other side were taken away from their pursuits and productive activities, and were put in the trenches fighting."

"Now when that demand for war material ends, when the war orders come to an end under our present policy, which, as embodied in the Underwood bill passed by our opponents, you can see yourself going back to work for one or two or three days per week. * * *

"You have got to have something besides this great, strong America that we talk about in such eloquent phrases and you have got to have something more than these alert and splendid men. You have got to have business policies that protect the industries of the United States."

"It is a perfectly absurd thing that any intelligent man should stand before the American community and talk about tariff for revenue only. You cannot run the United States in that way. The nations on the other side are learning the necessity of protecting their interests. Even Great Britain who on account of her special conditions, favored the free trade policy for so long, has come to a protective policy."

"And what will you see when this war is over? In the first place you will find that nations over there have learned a great deal. They learned in a long period before. They have learned about themselves; they have learned how to cooperate. We have got to have a lot more of that in this country—a real genuine human interest."

"Now when the war is over we will find in every country protection to its own industries and an effort to build up its own industries thru a protective tariff policy and a seeking of other markets, with their surplus production, at what prices they can get."

"And here is our great market, the greatest market in the world. Here is the gold that has accumulated during that time. Of course they will seek our market and then what will happen? Either their products will sell here and our products won't sell, or our men have got to take less money in wages. Now that is all there is to it."

"I say less money in wages and what comes to the same thing, less time in work; and when industries go down, when plants are reduced in output then if you have got money in the bank, you propose to draw it out and spend it, instead of adding to it."

"It is a fine thing to talk about conditions of labor to a man who cannot get work, or who is working on reduced time. * * *

"It is a very pleasant thing to say that to a man whose family is looking for bread and cannot get it."

Pluribus Unum, and In God We Trust.

AUTO ACCIDENT BASIS OF COURT SUITS

W. B. Groves Asks for Heavy Damages from Wabash Road—Other Cases Filed for Hearing in November.

Three suits were filed in the circuit court Wednesday by John M. Butler as attorney which are the result of the accident which happened a few months ago wherein Mrs. Mary McSherry and Miss Ellen Groves lost their lives, together with Mrs. Adolph Bernard and son and Miss Allen. W. B. Groves is the complainant in each of the suits, which are brought against the Wabash railroad company. As administrator of the estate of Mary McSherry damages in the sum of $1,500 are asked by Mr. Groves. As administrator of the estate of Mary Ellen Groves he seeks damages in the sum of $10,000 and his own suit against the railroad is for a like amount. Bellatti, Bellatti & Moriarty will represent the Wabash when the suits are tried.

The declaration in each case recounts the circumstances of the accident and the claim is made that the collision of the automobile and train occurred because proper warning was not given by the railroad, and furthermore, that the crossing conditions did not meet lawful requirements and that the view of the roadway was obstructed.

Mr. Butler has also filed a suit in assumpsit in the name of the Farmers' State Bank of Ashland against Ora Holmes and wife. This action is based on an alleged indebtedness of $900.

Joseph Raymond, by his attorney, H. P. Samuel, has brought a suit for divorce from his wife, Mamie Wilson Raymond. The complainant alleges cruelty on the part of his wife and her unwillingness to attend to the customary household duties. Reference also was made to periods of intoxication.

H. P. Samuel is the attorney in a personal injury suit against the Wabash railroad brought by Iven Mueller in the name of his next friend, W. G. Mueller. Because of an accident which happened at Bluffs the complainant is seeking damages of $400 on account of the alleged expenditure for physician and hospital expenses.

Still another suit filed yesterday for the November term is a bill in chancery with Maggie Hayes, complainant and Henry Sner defendant. This is a case from Scott county.

Lee Puncture Proof Tires are Guaranteed by the company to travel 5000 miles without a puncture; and should they fail they pay back the difference in cash. ### SUCCESSFUL VISITATION AT CHRISTIAN CHURCH.

Success attended the third annual visitation day Wednesday at Central Christian church and the one hundred visitors who assembled at the supper table in the evening reported that their efforts had been well repaid. The visitation was of social nature only and no requests were made for pledges.

At the supper in the church dining hall, served by women of the Pastor's Aid society, brief remarks were made by the pastor Rev. Myron L. Pontius, and about forty-five of those who called on the members of the church. Announcement was made of a sermon series which will begin next Sunday and extend until after the first of the year.

WADSWORTH ESTATES HAVE BEEN SETTLED.

Court records indicate a final settlement of the Wadsworth estates. It is understood by the terms of the settlement reached that Mrs. Alice W. Applebee and Miss Mary Wadsworth of this city acquired the interests of other heirs. Mrs. Applebee is now the sole owner of the business property at No. 44 North Side Square, occupied by the Dewey drug store, and the farm of 160 acres fronting on Walnut street just west of the city limits and occupied by Louis Baptist.

Miss Mary Wadsworth is now the sole owner of the business property on the south side of the square and occupied by the Woolworth store and the South Main street building leased to G. A. Sieber. Miss Wadsworth also is the owner of the Wadsworth warehouse in alley C, which has for a number of years been leased to Brady Bros.

WILSON BLIND TO INDUSTRIAL FUTURE

President Clings to Free Trade Theories and Refuses to Make Commercial Preparations for After War.

President Wilson's refusal to look ahead and prepare the country industrially is exactly like his refusal at one time to look ahead and prepare for national defense.

Eight months after the European war had begun, and when the American people instinctively were demanding better defenses on land and sea, Mr. Wilson superciliously described the movement as "nervous and excited." "We are well prepared," he said, as if he were addressing little children. "Don't be nervous; don't make the mistake of thinking that I have not already thought of these things; we are strong; we have a navy and an army. You are merely mistaken, that is all."

Later, when he had barely escaped war, Mr. Wilson took heed of the strong demand, saw that the people would sweep him aside if he did not obey their will, and then he was the chief champion of national defense. He said the country should have the biggest navy in the world—the other extreme that no sane American demands. He declared that no man could tell at what moment war would come. His speeches were as full of alarm as they had been previously smug and self-satisfied. By the aid of Republicans, who constantly opposed the niggardly attitude of many Democrats in congress, a program of national defense was enacted which met the demands of the people.

Plays Schoolmaster.

Now Mr. Wilson again plays the schoolmaster and tells the people they are nervous and excited when they demand industrial defense. He tells them they are "seeing things" when they predict severe competition from European cheap labor after the war. He refers to the popular "dumping clause" of the new revenue law and asserts that it is all-sufficient protection to American labor.

President Wilson fails to meet the situation now, as he failed to meet it in regard to national defense until he dared not refuse the mandate of the people. He is not a leader, but a reluctant follower of public opinion. He does not believe the public is right, and when compelled to abandon his own attitude, he does it for the sake of votes, and not because he believes the public is right.

That Dumping Clause.

The dumping clause is an absurdity as a means of insuring industrial defense. It does not protect American industry or American labor against the cheap labor products of Europe. It merely prevents the sale here of foreign goods at prices cheaper than they bring at home. There are thousands of articles of importance which can be manufactured cheaply and sold cheaply abroad, and if no protective tariff were out they will enter the United States in competition with the goods made by well-paid American labor. They can be sold here at the price they bring at home, or even higher, and still be ruinous to American industry.

The dumping clause applies only to goods that foreigners may try to sell to Americans at a price lower than that paid in the foreigner's own country. But the foreigner need not fix his prices so low. Under the Democratic tariff he can raise his prices, and still undersell Americans in America. The tariff law admits two-thirds of all imports free of duty. The foreigner has every advantage over an American in the American market. He has cheap labor, cheap raw material, cheap transportation, and no duty to pay.

HE KEPT US OUT OF WAR

(Copyright, 1916, by John T. McCutcheon.)

—Chicago Daily Tribune.

The American manufacturer in many industries has costly labor, costly raw material, long-distance railroad transportation and high taxes to pay. The item of labor, however, is the principal factor of cost. Labor receives from 75 to 90 per cent of the outlay of manufacture in America. In foreign countries labor receives much less.

President Wilson knows these facts, or can know them if he will not close his mind to the truth.

Clings to Free Trade Theories.

But President Wilson refuses to recognize these facts. He is ashamed, apparently, to abandon the free-trade theories which he absorbed as a college student and professor. His theory of business and commerce is shattered by the workaday truth, but he clings to theory, nevertheless. When Mr. Hughes voices the demand of the people for industrial protection and defense, Mr. Wilson dodges the issue and sneeringly suggests that the people are "nervous and excited;" that they don't know what they are talking about; that there is a popular dumping law already in existence, and that the ignorance of the people concerning this law is evidence that they are ignorant of the whole subject.

There need be no expectation of national industrial defense or protection against foreign cheap labor competition so long as Mr. Wilson is president.

Princeton Alumni For Hughes.

A telegram from New York received by Western Manager Hertz at Republican headquarters yesterday, says that a poll of the Princeton alumni taken by a committee of graduates from that university, reveals that 992 Princeton alumni who voted for Wilson in 1912 are going to vote this year for Hughes. There are only 57 of the alumni who voted for Taft or for Roosevelt in 1912 who are to vote for Wilson this year. Equally significant is the fact that 360 men who voted for Roosevelt in 1912 will vote for Hughes this year, while only 37 of them will vote for Wilson. In other words, ninety (90) per cent of the Progressive vote is going to Hughes.

EBENEZER SCHOOL IS HISTORIC GROUND

Miss Maude Hulse Is Teacher This Year and Doing Good Work—Directors Quote Criticism.

We have all heard the good old song beginning, "Here I raise my Ebenezer," and it was with that in mind that the good people of long ago named the church and district a few miles northwest of the city. In that vicinity the well known and beloved Peter Akers conducted a school for some time and to it went several of the descendants of the first settlers, the Indians, and the spirit of education still hovers over the place. A short distance north of the church is the schoolhouse and to it a short time since the writer directed his way and had a pleasant visit with the school, under the supervision of Miss Maude Hulse, the teacher. This school house is located on the crest of a hill and it has a commanding position with a good view in almost every direction. The visitor was kindly received by Miss Maude Hulse the teacher and made welcome at once and requested to offer the school anything he chose to give and he proceeded to tell the pupils about faraway lands which were interesting and so different from ours. The children paid good attention and the visit was much enjoyed by the caller and he hopes by the school.

The directors of the school are Messrs. Walker Henderson, Charles Reid and Austin Patterson.

On the way home Mr. Patterson was met and the conversation turned on the recent visit.

"Tell me exactly how you found things," said Mr. Patterson.

Now, the fact is, a few years ago the writer visited the place and the buildings and surroundings did look a trifle neglected and in need of repairs, but he said to Mr. Patterson: "The Journal is not in the business of fault finding and criticism, but wants to help and encourage good work."

"That is all right, but I am just as anxious to know what you don't commend as what you like."

"Well, in the first place, the directors are greatly to be commended for the work they have done. They have painted the building nicely, put in a modern heating apparatus, arranged the two rows of windows according to law, and a general air of improvement is noticeable all around."

"What do we lack?"

"The wall paper is loose in one place, a few maps and charts would be a help, some additions to the library in the way of reference books and a small encyclopedia and some pictures of notable men on the walls and a few trees planted in the yard. The school has an organ the teacher uses and some good books are in the library."

"You are fully right and these things will all have attention. I agree with you entirely and thank you for your suggestions."

"Please understand, I am not fault finding, for great credit is due the directors for what they have done."

The pupils of the school are: Boys—Edgar Bell, James Bell, Albert Birdsell, Milton Birdsell, Paul Du Frates, Leroy Ferreira, Harold Henderson, Irl Henderson, Wilson Henderson, Dawson Jordan, Rex Mason, Alfred Smith, Floyd Smith, Ralph Shaw, Orilla Thomas, Nel Thomas, Walter Thomas, Clarence Moss.

Girls—Dorothy Bell, Dorothy Birdsell, Odessa Birdsell, Ora Birdsell, Ada Brogdon, Susie Brogdon, Matilda Dixon, Viola Dixon, Evalena Ferreira, Marian Reid, Eula Thomas.

BIDS ASKED

Sealed bids will be received by the city of Jacksonville at the office of the city clerk up to 10 a. m. Monday, Nov. 13, 1916 for 10,000 square feet more or less of concrete sidewalks in East State street, as provided by ordinance duly passed by the city council August 14, 1916. The right is reserved to reject any or all bids.

R. L. Pyatt, City Clerk.

FIREMEN WILL GIVE BALL

The members of the Jacksonville fire department will hold their annual ball in Armory hall Thanksgiving eve. Committees will be named within a few days and tickets placed on sale.

Charles R. Lewis and John W. Clary Purchase Beggs Estate Interests in Three Elevators.

A transaction was consummated Wednesday whereby Charles R. Lewis of Springfield and John W. Clary of this city become owners of the Beggs interests in the elevators in Jacksonville, Markham and Savage. The firm in Jacksonville will be known as the Lewis-Clary Grain and Coal company. The Markham property will be known as the Lewis-Clary company and the Savage property as the Laurie-Lewis company.

Charles R. Lewis is known as one of the best grain men in Illinois. He became associated with Mr. Beggs at Prentice more than twenty years ago. In company with Mr. Beggs and several others they controlled at one time thirty-six elevators. Recently the property was divided and at the present time Mr. Lewis has control of 13 elevators aside from the three above mentioned. As a member of the firm of Lewis-Lynd Grain company he controls a large elevator, transfer house and milling company in Springfield where he now makes his headquarters.

John W. Clary has been associated with Mr. Lewis for the past six years. Mr. Clary has spent his life in farming and has long been known as an excellent judge of grain. He has managed the elevator at Markham and recently has been in Jacksonville. Upon Mr. Lewis' removal to Springfield Mr. Clary assumed full control of the local elevator and coal yard. The new firm starts out under auspicious circumstances and will no doubt acquire other interests as the years pass.

USE "CASCARETS" FOR LIVER AND BOWELS WHEN CONSTIPATED

When Bilious, Headachy, Sick, For Sour Stomach, Bad Breath, Bad Colds.

Get a 10-cent box.

Take a Cascaret tonight to cleanse your liver, stomach and bowels, and you will surely feel great by morning. You men and women who have headache, coated tongue, a bad cold, are bilious, nervous, upset, bothered with a sick, gassy, disordered stomach, or have backache and feel all worn out. Are you keeping your bowels clean with Cascarets—or merely forcing a passageway every few days with salts cathartic pills or castor oil?

Cascarets immediately cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour, undigested and fermenting food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry off the constipated waste matter and poison from the bowels.

Remember, a Cascaret tonight will straighten you out by morning. A 10-cent box from your druggist means healthy bowel action; a clear head and cheerfulness for months. Don't forget the children.—Adv.

EUROPEAN WAR NOTES

Paris, Nov. 1.—The Official Journal today published a decree appointing Rear Admiral Marie Jean Lucien Lacaze, the minister of marine, as minister of war ad interim during the absence of General Roques, who is on an important mission.

London, Nov. 1.—The sinking of the British steamers Maroon and Terno is announced by Lloyd's agency.

The Maroon was of 3552 tons net and belonged to the Moss Steamship Company, Ltd., of Liverpool. The name of the Terno is not contained in any of the marine records.

Rome, November 1.—Via London.—Thruout the whole front yesterday there was great artillery activity favored by fine weather, says the Italian war office statement today. "In the afternoon," says the announcement, "the bombardment became intense in the zone east of Gorizia and on the Carso. Our aeroplane squadrons were engaged in numerous encounters, during which two Austrian machines were brought down."

Berlin, Nov. 1.—By Wireless to Sayville.—The Overseas News Agency reports that three German submarines which returned recently to their home ports sank within a few days 21 ships of a total of 18,500 tons in the English channel. Among the vessels sunk were the French bark Condor, 760 tons; the French bark Cannebiere, 2450 tons, loaded with coloring wood; and three-masted French schooner St. Charles, 521 tons, with 400 tons of fish.

The same agency states that a German submarine which recently returned from cruiser warfare was offensively attacked repeatedly by armed steamers or shelled by others when it began lawful search. This submarine, the agency says, was attacked altogether seven times. In nearly all cases the steamers were British and carried one or more modern guns.

The submarine had been fired at six times by hostile steamers during a previous cruise of several weeks in the Mediterranean. The commanders and crew, by their ability and presence of mind, escaped in time in all cases.

The French bark Condor was last reported as leaving Havre on October 20 for New York. The Cannebiere left Buenos Aires August 16 for Havre, according to the last report.

F. S. Armstrong of Beardstown, was added to the list of city arrivals yesterday.

YOU CAN'T FIND ANY DANDRUFF, AND HAIR STOPS COMING OUT

Save Your Hair! Make It Thick, Wavy, Glossy and Beautiful At Once.

Try as you will, after an application of Danderine, you cannot find a single trace of dandruff or falling hair and your scalp will not itch, but what will please you most, will be after a few weeks' use, when you see new hair, fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair—growing all over the scalp.

A little Danderine immediately doubles the beauty of your hair. No difference how dull, faded, brittle and scraggy, just moisten a cloth with Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair. The effect is immediate and amazing—your hair will be light, fluffy and wavy, and have an appearance of abundance; an incomparable lustre, softness and luxuriance, the beauty and shimmer of true hair health.

Get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter, and prove that your hair is as pretty and soft as any—that it has been neglected or injured by careless treatment. A 25-cent bottle will double the beauty of your hair.—Adv.

MAY BE CHANGE IN NATIONAL COMMISSION

Johnson States Certain American League Club Owners Are Opposed to "Too Much National League in the Composition of the National Commission."

Chicago, Nov. 1.—President B. B. Johnson of the American League, in a statement tonight, admitted there "probably will be a change in the complexion of the national baseball commission."

The statement was issued after two afternoon newspapers had quoted Mr. Johnson as saying August Herrman, chairman of the commission, would be deposed.

Immediate denial of the statement was made. President Johnson, however, said certain club owners of the American League are opposed to "too much National League in the composition of the national commission."

Mr. Herrman is president of the Cincinnati club of the National League and has been chairman of the national commission since the formation of the body under the agreement of the National and American leagues. He was in conference with President Johnson here last week regarding questions involving the commission. The commission is made up of Johnson, Herrman and John K. Tener, president of the National League.

"There is a strong undercurrent running for a change in the complexion of the commission," President Johnson said. "Certain club owners of the American League seem to feel that there is too much National League in its complexion. Personally, I have much to commend and little to criticize in the work of Mr. Herrman in the long period of years that he has been chairman of that body. Probably there will be a change, but that is a matter that only can be determined in future discussions between the two organizations."

NOTES OF THE GRIDIRON.

Up to the time Syracuse met Pittsburg the "Salt Packers" had scored 191 points to their opponents' 0.

Tufts in the East and Northwestern among the western teams have furnished the big surprises of the season.

Mike Charles of the Princeton eleven is a sprinter and a genuine strong man. In his freshman year he broke all the strength records of the university.

The University of Illinois eleven, which has been in the championship class for several years, is proving somewhat softer for their opponents than in previous seasons.

Both the varsity and freshman teams at Yale bid fair to furnish a real come-back and to revive the old Eli get-'em spirit on the gridiron.

According to reports emanating from Ithaca, Cornell has a world of high-class material at work. The substitutes are just about as good as the first string men.

Minnesota seems to have the call among Western football critics. The Gophers are generally picked to win the Western conference championship.

The Kansas-Missouri game on Thanksgiving Day is expected to attract the largest crowd that ever witnessed a football game in the Missouri Valley conference.

Pittsburg's winning outfit is the result of the Glenn Warner system of coaching. Warner has demonstrated that he can develop star gridgers among the palefaces as well as among the red men.

Like other teams Harvard doesn't relish defeat, but all the lost games will be overlooked in Cambridge if the Crimson whips the Elis in the big battle.

Vanderbilt is showing the old wicked driving power this season, which means that the Southern college eleven will have to go considerable to beat out the Commodores.

Johnny Maulbetsch, the Michigan star, is again showing the work that made him famous. With Johnny in shape the Wolverines have scored about five points before the start of the game.

Doing military duty on the Texas border doesn't seem to have impaired Howard Berry's brilliant gridironing in the least. The Pennsylvania crack and all-round collegiate champion has started the season like a whirlwind.

It is seldom that two such brilliant runs as were recorded in the Penn State-Bucknell game are staged in the same contest. Beck of State ran 90 yards for a touchdown, and Lawrence, a Bucknell end, picked up a fumbled ball and ran 86 yards for a touchdown.

Contrary to the general idea of coaching methods, Coach A. Sharpe of Cornell instructs his players to attend the theater and to stay up as late as they desire the night before a big game. A touch of the bright lights "the night before" is supposed to keep the minds of the players off the impending struggle.

DEATHS AT SOLDIERS' HOME.

SOLDIERS' MONUMENT.

Editor Journal: Before I left home last June as secretary of the Morgan County Monument Association, I had interviews and correspondence with people from various committees all over the county and at no time and on no occasion did I find the slightest opposition to the proposition to build a memorial or monument to perpetuate the memory of the heroic band who marched forth in the tragic days of the sixties to save the Union by striking the belt from red-laden treason and rebellion.

There ought not to be a dissenting vote against the project as the memory of those brave men is dear to every man, woman and child in historic old Morgan, who gave her full measure of devotion to the principle that "this government of the people, for the people, and by the people should not perish from the earth." The history of the great crusade for human liberty would be incomplete with the record of old Morgan left out, for did not she give to the state and the nation the great war governor, Richard Yates, who sent to the field a quarter of a million as brave men as ever marched to glory and the grave, and whose good right hand signed the commission of the greatest warrior that the world had ever produced in the person of U. S. Grant, and who led our armies to victory from Belmont to Appomattox? Indirectly Yates was an instrumentality in placing the American Union as one among the grand galaxy of the nations of the earth, and in honoring our heroic dead we are no less honoring the name and fadeless glory which surrounds the memory of Richard Yates, whose hallowed dust reposes in that beautiful city of the dead at Diamond Grove. There is no reason why the monument should not be constructed, but there are many reasons why it should. The first and main reason is that it will show that patriotism is not dead in the hearts of the people of this generation who are beneficiaries of the valor of those who stood as barriers of steel and blood and brawn between our loved homes and war's desolation in the tragic days of the long ago. They endured the heat and burden of war that we of this time might rest in peace, prosperity and safety beneath theegis of the starry banner that has never yet been furled in dishonor, and by the faith and hope of the loyalty of our people never will or shall be, for when freedom from her mountain height unfurled her standard to the air it was meant by those who handed it down to us that it should stay there and be as a beacon light of liberty, justice and equality to the millions of today and the countless millions yet to materialize on this mortal stage of action. And it was the heroism of the Union soldiers that made all this possible. It was through the heroic valor of the blue army that it became possible for the boys of '98 to change the map of the world in ninety days and establish a republic in Cuba, which for centuries had been under the iron heel of despotism and Spanish cruelty unparalleled in the world's history. The men of the sixties made history that will live to the end of time, and these valorous sons who gave the full measure of devotion to the cause of God and humanity are surely worthy of recognition by the people of today. Regardless of party and party affiliations, past and present, there should not be a vote cast against the proposition, and I feel assured that all my friends and I have a lot of them all over the county, will vote as a unit in favor of the monument task, which, as I understand it, will amount to about one mill on the dollar of the taxable property in the county. Even if it were more, and vastly more, don't forget that we owe a debt of gratitude to the saviors of our country that can never be paid in dollars and dimes.

If the proposition carries, which it no doubt will, the shaft should be built on the exact spot where now stands that eye-seen known as the bandstand or pagoda, or whatever you choose to call it, of all sites in Morgan county that is the one ideal spot. It is central and easily accessible to visitors from all parts of the county and from out of the county as well. But the matter of location can easily be settled after the appropriation has been endorsed by the patriotic men and women of good old Morgan.

In conclusion it might be well to state that nearly every county in the state has built soldiers' monuments. For example, Green county has two, one at Carrollton and a splendid monument at Whitehall, which the people can and do point with pride to as an evidence of patriotism on the part of a grateful people who fully appreciate what it meant to have been a member of an army that gave us a united country and a flag that was cleansed from the foul blot of human bondage—a banner brought back from a thousand fields and without the loss of a single star, whose radiance spreads to the remotest parts of civilization. In the years to come our children, even to the third and fourth generation, can point with patriotic pride to the monument commemorative of the valor of their ancestors and at the same time receive inspiration and profit by and through the spirit that animated those who lent a helping hand in building a memorial to commemorate the fadeless record of the departed soldiers of Morgan county.

"Nor wreck, nor storm, nor winter's blight,
Nor time's remorseless doom,
Can dim one ray of holy light
That gilds their glorious tombs."

J. M. Swales.
Chicago, October 30, 1916.

Escape TOOTH Troubles

—by keeping your teeth REALLY CLEAN.

"But," you say, "I brush my teeth regularly, yet they decay." Yes, you brush them, but do you REALLY CLEAN them? Tonight, after brushing your teeth, examine them closely. You will likely find an accumulation of tartar on the enamel and bits of food deposit hiding in the crevices.

Decay, as well as the dangerous gum disease called Pyorrhea, usually develops only in the mouth where germ-laden tartar is present.

SENRECO, the formula of a dental specialist, keeps the teeth REALLY CLEAN. It embodies specially prepared soluble granules unusually effective in cleaning away food deposits. Moreover, it is particularly destructive to the germ of Pyorrhea.

WHEAT UNDERGOES SWIFT DECLINE

Close is Unsettled at 3 to 6 Cents
Net Lower—Corn and Oats Suffer Losses.

Chicago, Nov. 1.—Persistent anxiety as to possible disturbance of relations between the United States and Germany together with word of Australian imports at San Francisco and of rains in Argentina resulted today in a swift decline of wheat prices here.

The close was unsettled 3 to 6½c
net lower, with December at $1.82½ to $1.82 and May at $1.81½ to $1.82. Corn lost 2½c to 3½c and oats 1c to 1½c. In provisions the outcome was a rise of 2½c to 25c.

The final straw for the bulls came in the form of a report that heavy rains were greatly improving crop prospects in Argentina.

Liquidation of wheat holdings was on such a large scale thruout the session that rallies were of comparatively no importance. Scarcity of storage insurance made the December option a special target for the bears and so likewise did a falling-off in export transactions. One of the most conspicuous sellers was a leading bull speculator, who has been known as possibly the largest individual holder of December contracts. It was easy to depress corn in view of the breaks in the value of wheat. Besides, fine weather and noticeable arrivals here counted noticeably against the bulls.

Oats gave way with other cereals.
Buying was poor, altho the seaboard sent advices that the export demand was likely to increase.
Provisions were strengthened by purchases for Belgium.

A pimply face will not embarrass you much longer if you get a package of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The skin should begin to clear after you have taken the tablets a few nights.

Cleanse the blood, the bowels and the liver with Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the successful substitute for calomel—there's never any sickness or pain after taking them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do that which calomel does, and just as effectively, but their action is gentle and safe instead of severe and irritating.

No one who takes Olive Tablets is ever cursed with "a dark brown taste," a bad breath, a dull, listless, "no good" feeling, constipation, torpid liver, bad disposition or pimply face.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color.

Dr. Edwards spent years among patients afflicted with liver and bowel complaints, and Olive Tablets are the immensely effective result.

Take one or two nightly for a week. See how much better you feel and look. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

MANY STATES WILL VOTE ON LIQUOR QUESTION

Dry and Liquor Interests Will Have Notable Contests in Next Tuesday's Election.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 1.—The country goes next Tuesday to the stiffest test which has been made up to date between the liquor interests and the anti-saloon forces. As a result of the balloting on that day half a dozen States may be added to the dry column, which will mean that the dawn of the new year will find the saloons ousted from more than half the Commonwealths that make up the Union. Of the remaining States, those that still may be classed as "wet," large "dry" areas, in some cases amounting to considerably more than half the State, will exist as a result of the county or local option laws.

The States in which the straight-out question of Statewide prohibition is to be decided Tuesday are all west of the Mississippi river, with the single exception of the State of Michigan. The Southern States will not figure in the contest for the reason that virtually all of the South has already barred the saloons. The question is a live issue in some of the eastern States and is expected to decide the fate of more than one candidate for public office, altho the main question of Statewide prohibition will not be voted on.

Michigan the Battle Ground. The main strength of the liquor interests and of the dry forces has been brought to bear on Michigan, where the question of Statewide prohibition is to be submitted to the voters. Both sides, of course, claim victory, but the analytical outcome of the referendum is in doubt. Detroit is the center of the contest, both factions having a headquarters in that city from which the State has been covered with literature. In their State platforms neither the Republicans nor the Democrats made mention of the issue. A large part of the State is already dry as a result of local option.

California will vote on two amendments to the constitution, one providing for partial prohibition in 1918 and the other for total prohibition in 1920. Both measures have been put forward and endorsed by the Prohibition forces. Heretofore the vast wine-producing interests of California have been the chief stumbling block in the way of prohibition in that State. Now it is claimed a satisfactory solution of this problem has been found and no ground no longer exists for objection to prohibition because it might wipe out one of the chief industries of the State. The campaign against the prohibition amendments is being pushed vigorously and the leaders appear confident of success.

The law to be submitted to the voters in Montana prohibits the sale, manufacture or introduction of liquors, but exempts denatured alcohol, wine for sacramental purposes and alcohol intended for scientific or manufacturing purposes. In event it carries the law submitted to the legislature will become effective Dec. 31, 1918.

The Nebraska Contest. In no State has the fight over the liquor question been waged with greater intensity than in Nebraska, where a prohibition constitutional amendment has been submitted to the voters. The question has split the ranks of both the Democrats and Republicans and is expected to have a deciding influence in the contests of any of the important State offices. Foremost among the supporters of the proposed amendment is William J. Bryan, who has stamped the State from end to end in its behalf.

Missouri is another leading State where the question of Statewide prohibition is to be submitted to the voters next Tuesday. Of late years the growth of prohibition sentiment in Missouri has been remarkably strong, more than one-half the population now being in territory that prohibits the sale of liquor. But to win the fight for the entire State "drys" will have to overcome the strong anti-prohibition sentiment that is supposed to exist in St. Louis and other of the large cities.

More hopeful of success are the Prohibitionists in South Dakota, another of the States where the voters will pass on the Statewide prohibition issue. In South Dakota, as in all the neighboring States, the sentiment against the saloons has been steadily gaining ground during the past few years, but whether it has yet reached the point to turn

RHEUMATISM MAKES YOU FEEL OLD

Pains and Aches Yield To Sloan's Liniment, the Family Friend

When your joints become stiff, your circulation poor, and your suffering makes you irritable, an application of Sloan's Liniment gives you quick relief—kills pain, starts up a good circulation, relieves congestion. It is easier and cleaner to use than musky plasters or ointments, acts quickly and does not clog the pores. It does not stain the skin.

You don't need to rub—it penetrates. Certainly fine for rheumatism, stiff neck, sciatica, lame back, toothache, etc.

For sprains, strains, bruises, black and blue spots, Sloan's Liniment reduces the pain and eases the soreness.

Its use is so universal that you'll consider Sloan's Liniment a friend of the whole family. Your druggist sells it in 25c, 50c and $1.00 bottles.

THE MYSTERIOUS FOE

A Series of Stories About Some Illinois Men, Women and Children. Issued by the Illinois State Association for the Prevention of Tuberculosis

FOURTEENTH EPISODE.

Albert, the subject of this little talk, is a conductor. His daily job is that of punching tickets.

The other day he had a little chat with his family doctor.

He hadn't been exactly able to tell what was the matter. He knew though that he was getting thin because he had been forced twice in two months to tighten up his belt a notch.

Then when he "came in" from his "run" he was too tired to do a thing but go to bed and sleep.

This was unusual for Albert used to be ready to do little chores around the house when he first came home.

He noticed that he was coughing some but if he thought about it at all, he thought it was nothing more than a little cold.

When he had a noticeable fever, he thought it was a thing which naturally went with his "cold."

But after that talk with the good old family doctor, Albert had a different idea about himself.

"You don't get enough fresh air," the doctor said; "you are riding around all day in passenger cars, and breathing air that has been expelled from the lungs of thousands of people."

"But, doctor," said Albert, "if I open a ventilator or a window, some passenger is sure to object and say that he is too cold, or that it makes a draft and then I have to close it."

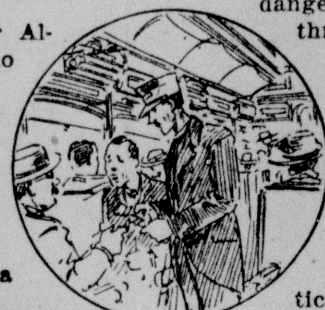

That stumped the doctor because he knew that while Albert was a valued employee of the road, it would never do for him to engage in many controversies with his passengers over even such an important matter as proper ventilation of his car.

He realized as few of us do, the danger Albert is in daily through breathing foul air.

The doctor knew that probably every day, careless consumptives ride in Albert's car, coughing and sneezing without using a cloth over the face.

And he explained to Albert that such practices were almost criminal because on every speck of moisture discharged from the mouth or nostrils of a consumptive, myriads of germs of tuberculosis are carried.

This rather cleared up the mystery concerning Albert's ailment. And from now on he is going to do all that he can toward getting fresh air in his cars, both for his own sake and for the sake of the passengers who ride with him.

the scale will not be known until after the ballots are counted.

Several States already under prohibition will vote on proposals to strengthen their present laws, while in one or two others where prohibition prevails the "antis" have succeeded to getting on the ballot measures that are calculated to make a less drastic the existing laws against the sale of liquor. Arkansas, for instance, will vote on a proposal to repeal the Statewide prohibition law and substitute in its place a local option measure.

ATTEMPTED BURGLARY AT DAN SWEENEY'S OFFICE

Yesterday morning when Dan Sweeney arrived at his place of business he found some miscreant had made an unsuccessful attempt to break into the vault used mainly for books and valuable papers and articles. Entrance was effected through a warehouse door with an iron bar and two doors were pried open so that egress would be easy. The would-be burglar or burglars first worked at the knob or handle that opens the door but without effect. Then they tried to pry the door open with some kind of a chisel, from appearances, but that failed. Then they hammered away at the combination till they broke off the knob and letter or figure circle.

At this the attempt was given up for some reason or other. The whole thing looked more like the work of an enemy than that of a man after money for the attempt was a bungle. On the other hand Mr. Sweeney doesn't know of any one who would have enough grudge against him to do such a trick as that so there is a bit of mystery about the whole matter. Mr. Sweeney will have quite a job cutting thru the wall of the vault to get at his books and papers.

O. WONDERFUL MAN

(Charles T. Russell)

O, wonderful man!—"that servant," For leading God's children to "light" The world will soon be observant, And know you have won, the "good fight."

O, wonderful man!—ever true, So "wise," so "faithful" and kind: The Lord has shown favor to you, For you had the Christlike "mind."

O, wonderful man!—ever brave, Full of sympathy, grace, and love: Who told of God's "plan," to save, Before answering the call, from above.

O, wonderful man!—"well done," You have heard the Master say; The "high calling" prize, you have won, And have entered the "eternal day."

O, wonderful man!—now at rest "From labor," with a glorious work before, That the world all may be blessed; You'll have "pleasure forevermore."

O, wonderful man!—now so great! To be in that heavenly throng; One of the "Savior's" in royal estate, Obadiah has told of, so long.

O, wonderful man!—now a king, The nations you'll soon help to school; Let angels, and good men, all sing! And welcome, The Christ's Kingdom "rule."

O, wonderful man!—ever kind, With the "Advocate," now face to face: Remember "those servants," behind, And help them, to "run the race."

SMALL FIRE NEARLY RESULTS FATALLY

Had it not been for prompt action on the part of neighbors Miss Mariah Durwell an aged woman residing at 544 South Prairie street might have been burned to death Wednesday afternoon. Miss Durwell who lives alone was engaged in raking and burning leaves. The flames spread in the grass and reached the woodshed and set it on fire. Miss Durwell in endeavoring to prevent the spread of the fire was overcome by smoke and heat and became faint. Neighbors went to her assistance and the fire department was called and extinguished the blaze without much damage.

ACIDS IN THE SYSTEM

Acids accumulating in the system in excess, poison the blood and cause a great variety of diseases, affecting the skin and other mucous surfaces, the heart and arteries, brain and general nervous system, joints and muscles. Some of these diseases are Rheumatism in its many forms, Catarrh, Eczema, Hives, itching and burning of the skin, dizziness, mental depression and a variety of other ailments. You must eliminate the acid from your system and purify your blood before you can be rid of your troubles. S. S. S. has been purifying and nourishing the blood for over half a century. It is also a very efficient tonic and being purely vegetable, it is the most efficient agent known in cleansing of the blood and toning of the system.
